What is the SAT?

- A globally recognized college admission test offered by the College Board since 1920s
- Almost all colleges and universities in the United States use the SAT to make admission decisions
- More than two million students take the SAT every year in over 170 countries

What is the SAT?

- Composed of Reasoning Test (formerly known as SAT 1) and Subject Tests (SAT 2)
- Offered six times a year in October, November, December, January, May and June internationally

SAT in Hong Kong

- HKEAA has been appointed by the College Board to organize SAT in Hong Kong since 2007
- 11 international schools in Hong Kong are holding SAT for their own students
- More than 22,000 candidates took SAT in the exam centres coordinated by the HKEAA in 2009/10

What does SAT test?

- Reasoning Test tests students' knowledge and skills in 3 areas:
- Critical reading: incl. reading passages and sentence completions
- Writing: incl. a short essay and M.C. questions on identifying error, improving grammar and usage
- Maths: incl. questions on arithmetic operations, algebra, geometry, statistics and probability

What does SAT test?

- Subject Tests are content-based, designed to measure students' knowledge and skills in particular subject areas
- 20 SAT Subject Tests in five general subject areas: English, history, languages, maths and science
- 6 foreign languages (Chinese, Japanese, French, Korean, German and Spanish) with listening tests offered in every November
