OUR GERMAN EXAMS

INFORMATION ABOUT GOETHE EXAMS DURING CORONA CRISIS

During the current pandemic, local rules and regulations are reviewed along with the risk situation, based on infection figures as published by the WHO. Our aim is to provide the best possible service to examination candidates at all locations. We ask for your understanding and patience if, due to the above criteria, we are temporarily unable to offer examinations at some locations.

Exam guidelines, terms and conditions for the exam administration as well as the general terms and conditions apply apart from the current crisis.

The German exams offered by the Goethe-Institut correspond to the levels of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) and range from level A1 for beginners to C2 for the most advanced language learners.

An aerial photograph of Berlin, Germany, taken from a high vantage point. The Berlin Fernsehturm (TV Tower) is the central focus, extending vertically from the bottom center towards the top of the frame. The sun is setting on the right side of the image, creating a bright orange glow and long, wispy clouds across the sky. The city's skyline is visible in the background, with various buildings and structures. In the foreground, several large, modern apartment buildings are visible, along with some greenery and smaller structures.
