

HKDSE Applied Learning Subjects

Generic Descriptors of Attained with Distinction

Students with this award typically:

- demonstrate sound knowledge and understanding of the concepts, principles and issues of the field.
- apply concepts and skills to solve daily problems with innovation and entrepreneurship
- demonstrate good analytical and decision-making skills to make informed judgments and evaluations
- communicate ideas effectively and express views in a logical and coherent manner
- demonstrate good interpersonal and collaborative skills in different contexts
- appreciate professional attitudes and ethics of the field
- demonstrate general understanding of the future trends of the field and the ability to identify opportunities for self-development