2012 Hong Kong Diploma of Secondary Education (HKDSE) Examination Results Released

The results of the first Hong Kong Diploma of Secondary Education (HKDSE) Examination will be released tomorrow (20 July).

The total number of candidates who entered the first HKDSE Examination amounts to 73,074, of which 98.2% are school candidates presented by 532 schools.

Candidates are offered three categories of subjects in the HKDSE Examination: Category A New Senior Secondary subjects, Category B Applied Learning subjects and Category C Other Language subjects. Over 90% of the school candidates registered for two to three subjects in addition to the four core subjects, namely Chinese Language, English Language, Mathematics and Liberal Studies.

This year 26,431 day school candidates have met the general entrance requirements for local four-year undergraduate university programmes, obtaining level 3 or above in both Chinese Language and English Language, and level 2 or above in Mathematics Compulsory Part and Liberal Studies. This represents 37.7% of the day school candidature.

A total of 47,831 day school candidates obtained level 2 or above in five subjects, including Chinese Language and English Language. These candidates are eligible to apply for sub-degree courses and relevant civil service ranks.

Among day school candidates, 0.8% attained level 5* and 79.3% got level 2 or above in Chinese Language, while 0.8% achieved level 5* and 79.2% received level 2 or above in English Language.

In Mathematics Compulsory Part, 1.1% of day school candidates attained level 5* and 79.7% got level 2 or above. As for Liberal Studies, 0.8% of day school candidates attained level 5* while the percentage receiving level 2 or above was 90.8%.

In Category B Applied Learning subjects, 66% of the 4,949 subjects assessed are awarded "Attained" and 23.9% achieved "Attained with Distinction".

A total of 250 candidates took Category C Other Language subjects and 68 candidates obtained grade a while 204 received grade e or above. These subjects were examined using the Advanced Subsidiary (AS) level question papers from Cambridge International Examinations (CIE), which also conducted the marking and grading.

This year special examination arrangements were made to cater for 1,056 candidates with special needs to ensure fairness among all examination takers. A total of 63 special examination centres were set up.

The Secretary General of the Hong Kong Examinations and Assessment Authority (HKEAA), Dr Tong Chong-sze, said, "We are sure candidates who have worked hard are getting the results they deserve. The satisfactory outcome is also a tribute to the support and encouragement given by parents and teachers."

"The HKDSE is a ground-breaking qualification that has been well received both locally and abroad. These results serve as a gateway for senior secondary graduates to further education and employment opportunities," he said.

The HKEAA will continue to liaise with overseas education bodies and tertiary institutions to secure recognition for the HKDSE Examination. Further benchmarking studies with overseas professional bodies will be conducted, including a study with Universities and Colleges Admissions Service (UCAS) of the UK to secure UCAS tariff points for level 5. The results are expected to be released by early 2013. At present over 130 overseas institutions have provided admission information related to HKDSE which is available on the HKEAA website www.hkeaa.edu.hk

Dr Tong also expressed gratitude to all the examiners, markers, invigilators and other examination personnel for their contribution to the successful conduct of this year's examination.

The huge efforts made by 3,864 markers and 679 marking assistants had made it possible for the timely completion of the marking of approximately 1.09 million scripts, of which about 98.4% were marked onscreen. More than 11,000 invigilators and centre supervisors also assisted in the administration of the written examinations in 401 examination centres.
