

In the presentation, I am full of self-confidence and gave out various ideas. Also, I have different intonation and body language which make the presentation more attractive.

Still, there are some improvements to make the presentation better. I always turn the notecard when speaking. It makes someone think that I am nervous or not take serious about it. Moreover, sometimes I lean forward and not stood straightly. My eyes sometimes focus on something far away but not the audience nearby.

With these improvements, I am sure that my presentation can become a brilliant and memorable one.
